

TELEPHONE ADVICE

If you need legal help with a problem, Michael Mackinnon offers advice over the telephone. A 40 minute consultation costs $220. At the end of it you will:

- understand your options
- be aware of any difficulties facing you; and
- know the way forward and the estimated cost

Additional costs are charged if the advice is required in writing or a letter needs to be written to the other party.

To arrange a consultation

You can pay via the Type of Service menu at the foot of the Horseforce Legal page. Once your payment is authorized, we will contact you to arrange a time and date for the consultation that suits you. Alternatively, call us on (03) 9745 2611 to make the arrangement.

To prepare for the consultation:

- organise the facts chronologically
- have any written communications between you and the other party available, especially any that you believe are important
- forward us a copy of any legal demand received and any veterinary report obtained
